UTILITIES LAW IS NOT RETROACTIVE
SALT LAKE, March 17.—That the public utilities law passed by the legislature does not affect any contractual arrangements for transportation made prior to its passage and legal at that time, is the opinion of the office of Dan B. Shields, attorney general. The decision was written late yesterday and will be transmitted today to R. N. Young, secretary to Mayor W. Mont Ferry.

There was a saving clause left in the bill caring for contracts entering into relations made legally before the passage of the bill, and any transportation for municipal officers which formed part of the consideration for any franchise or other agreement is not affected by the new law. Such is the substance of the opinion.
